1

Questions

1. In SQL, what does the statement 'SELECT 459' do?

A. To start a transaction
B. To inject SQL
C. To pause the database
D. To return a constant value

2. What is the purpose of the PostgreSQL function pg_sleep(n)?

A. To create a table
B. To test database response time
C. To delay the database response
D. To alter table data