1

Questions

1. If 'now()' and 'sysdate()' are used in an SQL statement, what type of functions are they generally considered as?

A. Aggregate functions
B. Date and time functions
C. Numeric functions
D. String functions

2. What does the SQL 'sleep' function do when included in a conditional operation?

A. Permanently changes server configuration
B. Temporarily pauses processing for its duration
C. Immediately terminates SQL processes
D. Displays a warning message