1'||DBMS_PIPE.RECEIVE_MESSAGE(CHR(98)||CHR(98)||CHR(98),15)||'

Questions

1. What is the primary purpose of the function 'DBMS_PIPE.RECEIVE_MESSAGE' in an Oracle database context when used in a query like 1'||DBMS_PIPE.RECEIVE_MESSAGE(CHR(98)||CHR(98)||CHR(98),15)||'?

A. To block SQL execution until a message is received or a timeout occurs
B. To automatically update database schema when a message is received
C. To encrypt messages received from a server
D. To immediately execute a batch of SQL commands without waiting